Question 6. Why is the number of exams decreasing in the future (from 7,500 in the Base year down to 4,500 by the Fourth Option year)?

Answer: The number of exams is proportional to the number of new hires anticipated in each fiscal year. There are two variables in estimating the number of hires each fiscal year - attrition and Congressionally mandated staffing increases. While attrition is expected to be fairly constant over the option years, Congressionally mandated staffing increases are expected to decline significantly as the INS reaches optimum staffing levels.

Question 46. Maximum distance that services can be provided to applicant.

Answer: For the cities contained in Part III, Attachment 4 Set Forth in the solicitation, services must be provided within a 60-mile radius of those cities. For services outside of those areas, there is no maximum distance but the contractor should make every effort to provide a facility within 200-250 miles.

Question 47. Total turnaround for completion of all exam components. Are examinations scheduled/distributed evenly or intermittently?

Answer: It is expected that all exam components would be completed and submitted to the contractor within 5 business days of the physical examination, in most cases. The contractor must then submit the completed medical to the agency's designated Medical Review Officer within 5 business days.

Question 48. What are the scheduling outreach requirements to agency employees?

Contractor may sometimes communicate with applicants if facilities are unable to schedule timely appointments or when other logistical complications arise.

Question 49. What happens when an applicant does not appear for an examination? Is there one agency point of contact or multiple when scheduling employees for services?

Answer: When an applicant does not appear for an examination, the responsibility lies with the applicant and the INS to follow-up. When the INS foresees peak periods associated with open periods for new applications, the contractor will be notified as soon as possible.

Question 52. Will INS eliminate or relax the requirement that a network be submitted as part of the proposal in order to ensure a full and open competition? If not, why not?

Answer: No, INS will not eliminate or relax the requirement that a network be submitted as part of the proposal. This is the agency's assurance that any selected Offeror is capable of meeting the essential requirement for nationwide-coverage. In addition, due to the expected volume of exams and the enormity of the agency's annual hiring goals, the need to ensure continuous, unimpeded exam services is of utmost importance. Congress and the U.S. Attorney General continuously monitor INS' progress in meeting annual hiring goals, and we are held accountable for unnecessary delays.

Question 53. Can we bill no shows and missed appointments? What happens when an applicant does not appear for an examination?

Answer: No shows and missed appointments are non-billable. If an applicant does not appear for an examination, the contractor will not be required to follow-up.
